DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

[From the Richmond Enquirer.]

NORTHERN FANATICISM AND SOUTHERN PHILOSOPHY.

When the Rev. Mr. Beecher recently returned to Brooklyn, an audience of over five thousand faithful followers greeted him at his church on a Sunday evening. His so-called sermon treated, for a wonder, of religious matters, but as soon as the written part had been read he felt free from constraint, and, symbolising this freedom by leaving the flower-decked table, which serves him as pulpit, he walked about rambling with his improvised remarks through the whole range of popular subjects, from the impeachment of the President to the last murder in Arkansas. A benediction he did not dare give, for what man can bless his fellow-man? His brother minister, the Rev. Mr. Bianchard, a week afterwards, addressed a large audience of Spiritualists in New York on the subject of Free Thought and Free Pulpit. Free Thought meant to him and to his audience an absolute abandonment of all authority that could fetter man's mind: the wisdom of antiquity, the light of learning, the weight of experience and, above all, "the absurd tyranny of the Bible!" Placing himself as the third brother between Mr. Beecher, of Brooklyn, and Mr. Trothingham, of Boston, he proclaimed the uprising of a church, which was to know no other guidance but the sublime reason of man and the direct revelations of the Great Spirit. For the Free Pulpit he claimed the undisputed right to discuss all sacred matters, and what matters were not sacred? Surely politics concerned the happiness of men, and was not that a sacred thing? Surely woman required an advocate and an interpreter of her rights, and was not her cause a sacred thing?

The Sunday after this, the last and highest tribute to perfect freedom was paid by the inauguration of a church in Hoboken, the professed creed of whose members was declared to be Atheism and Infidelity; the speaker stated that they believed neither in the scriptures, as inspired writings, nor in the existence of God. Among other remarks, which it would seem wrong to repeat, he said that the building was to be not a church, but a "Mausoleum of Jehovah!"

These are not isolated instances, but only stray expressions called forth by the reopening of fashionable churches after the summer vacation. But they open a view into the heart of Northern society, which would make the stoic turn with disgust and fill the Christian with ineffable sorrow. It is sad enough that four hundred thousand inhabitants of New York never go to church, as a recent census has revealed, but we doubt—with all reverence, be it said—whether their souls are not safer than those whom infidels and deceivers pretend to instruct and to guide.

The fact is, that true faith is simply dying out at the North under the influence of Radicalism. As the powerful dogma of the Reformation could not be confined by human wisdom or man's violence to matters of religion, but soon brought light and independence to science, to art, and to all the high er powers of man, so Radicalism, also, does not content itself with undermining the belief in constitutions, but goes on blighting the faith in all that men have heretofore held sacred. Their doctrine is emphatically a doctrine of destruction. Down with the sacred compact of glorious old States; down with the principles of the noble founders of the Republic; down with the ancient virtues of generosity and charity! In their stead, Radicalism gives to the Union Maine liquor laws, negro dominion and unbearable taxes. They have successfully upheaved the foundations of the Republic and torn down its pillars; what wonder that they now attack the church as well as the State, and, as they have substituted their own will for the Constitution, prefer their own reason to revelations from on High.

We hope and trust that the South will be spared at least this humiliation, to see infidelity darken its bright skies. We have drained the bitter cup that is held to our lips by implacable enemies. We are even now at the dregs and we are sorely tried.—But if all is lost, our honor is safe yet, and God be thanked, our faith has stood the trial. In our darkest hour, in the moment when all was lost and despair crept into many a heart, no impious curse was heard, no reckless reproaches were sent to Heaven. The nation bowed in reverend submission before the decree, and ever since, we have accepted our sorrowful lot as coming from on High. For there is faith yet in the land. When dangers threaten us on all sides, when brutal enemies rejoice and our servants are made our masters, when our homes are in danger of confiscation and our children left without bread, we still look upon our foe but as the instrument in the hands of a higher power; and when the Radicals rule supreme in the land with violence and perfidy, we remember that there is one who rules over all the earth and that with Him is justice and mercy. We cannot close our land to the Northerner or to the foreigner who comes to settle among us; we cannot keep out teachers and preachers who intrude on our soil; but we can close our ears to the siren song of the worshipper of reason and shut our hearts against the eloquent words of the infidel. Atheism has never prospered in the broad light of Southern good sense, and Spiritualism has always been a folly in our eyes. Let us but preserve our faith and all is safe. Let us believe in God, who watches over our beloved land; let us believe in ourselves, our manhood and our strength; let us believe in justice on high and we can will bear the darkness of the moment for the sake of the brightness of the future!

THE PRESIDENT ON THE EFFECT OF THE ELECTIONS.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, in his dispatches of Wednesday evening, says:

"The President has been visited by a large number of persons to-day, and judging by the reports, he seems to have expressed himself quite freely. He is stated to have said, among other things, that one result of the elections would be the defeat of the Convention policy in all the Southern States where the whites have a registered majority; that New York will certainly go against the Republicans in November; that impeachment is as dead as Radicalism; and that the people have declared their confidence in him and his policy in a most unmistakable manner."

"ÆTNA"

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

ASSETS $7,000,000.

THIS COMPANY ISSUES TEN YEAR NON-FORFEITING ENDOWMENT POLICIES, contracting to pay the amount insured at death or the specified time.

An endowment policy presents the double attraction of providing for one's family or other dependents in case he should be cut off before a specified age, or of securing to himself independence, in case he attains the age. Thus insuring for ten years, a note for one half of the cost will be taken by paying six per cent interest.

This plan gives, in addition to all the advantages of life insurance, a safe and convenient INVESTMENT for one's savings, till they have accumulated to a definite amount; which he receives in one sum at the specified time.

IMPORTANT TO

CAROLINA SHIPPERS.

THE NEW

Baltimore and Carolina Grand Trunk

FREIGHT LINE,

VIA PETERSBURG, VA.,

Comprising the following great Freight Routes:

THE POWHATAN

Steamboat Company's Freight Line of Steamers,

PETERSBURG AND WELDON,

RALEIGH AND GASTON,

NORTH CAROLINA.

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA,

WILMINGTON AND WELDON,

ATLANTIC AND NORTH CAROLINA,

WILMINGTON AND MANCHESTER,

CHARLOTTE AND SOUTH CAROLINA R. R.,

And their connections.

Time Quick and Rates Low.

THIS NEW TRUNK LINE FORMS A GREAT FREIGHT ROUTE between Baltimore and Weldon, Warrenton, Raleigh, Hillsboro', Lexington, Salisbury, Morganton, Charlotte, Lincolnton, Goldsboro', Newbern, Beaufort, Wilmington, Chesterville, Wynnsboro', Columbia, Sauterville, Manchester, and all intermediate points on and near these great Railways and their connections.

The Powhatan Steamers connect at Petersburg with Petersburg Railway for all points in the Carolinas. Cars are run alongside of Steamers' Wharf and goods transferred with careful handling. Cars are run through without breaking bulk between Petersburg and Raleigh Charlotte, Goldsboro', Wilmington, &c. &c. This Inland Line possesses many advantages over a Sea Route. Marine risk is small and insurance is comparatively nothing. The Wharf of the Powhatan Steamers being situated in the very centre of the great shipping district of Baltimore, renders it convenient to shippers, and drayage is very small.

Great attention paid to consignments of Cotton, Corn, Wheat, Rosin, &c. &c. All produce forwarded at the lowest possible rates.

☞ To insure transportation over this Inland Fast Line, mark all goods, whether Northward or Southward bound, "VIA PETERSBURG."

☞ Freight landed in Baltimore day following delivery to the Steamers.

Through Receipts are given and fixed rate per 100 pounds guaranteed both ways.

☞ Rates in every case same as via Bay Line and Portsmouth to and from Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1867.

THE COURSE OF CONSERVATIVES.

We have no partizan views to promulgate, no party ends to gratify, no office or emolument to seek, but only the good of our State and country. This has been our feeling, our aim, our only purpose, since the day the war was forced upon us until now, and the present, or the near future at least, does not in our judgment warrant the Conservatives of the South in seeking any party affiliation with the parties of the North, until the States and people of the South are recognised as equals in the Union.

The recent triumphs of the Northern Democracy have produced a change in the tone of even such cautious journals as the New York World, and others of the same character, and lead them to admonish the Southern States to preserve a "stubborn inaction," in regard to reconstruction. Heretofore they have advised the South to submit rather obsequiously to the will of Congress—not to obstruct or oppose reconstruction upon the Congressional plan, as a matter of stern necessity, in order to early reconstruction. The reaction in the North, which seems fully to have set in, is the cause of the change of the tone of these papers. We have no idea that any thing can prevent the overwhelming advance of this reaction, but the entire modification of the policy of the Republican party, or the unwise mishaps of the Democratic party and the Conservatives North, or the imprudence and misconduct of the Southern whites.—The exhibition, on the part of Southern Conservatives, of a bitter spirit towards the North, or towards the colored people of the South, or acts of violence or rage or stubborn hostility to either, would seriously check the progress of the reaction. We warn our people to be on the alert, to guard against all provocations, however great, to violent speech or measures against our enemies in our midst, or against the colored race. Let us make them all, whether white or colored, our friends, by our moderation, our caution and forbearance. In this respect, we cannot too highly commend, as an example for all speech-makers, talkers or newspaper writers, the admirable temper, language and true patriotic fervor which pervade the able letter of Gov. Graham, which we published on yesterday.

But shall Conservatives take the counsel of the World to be "stubbornly inactive"? Popular elections are sometimes deceptive—sudden triumphs of a party often make zeal fiery, to be entirely relied upon by sober men. There never was a time when the South should be more sober, more calm, more thoughtful, more determined or more firm. We need, in this crisis, not simply human prudence or human wisdom, but Divine wisdom, and we should ask it of God, "who giveth liberally to all and upbraideth not."

We are glad to see that the Richmond Whig has shaken off the Radical film which for months has been gathering over its eyes. We rejoice that it is recovering its old Conservative tone and position, and that it counsels manly and vigorous action on the part of all Conservatives and anti-radicals, to go to work and to lay aside their stubborn inactivity. It strikes us that, in the following remarks, it raises the proper key note. If a State Convention to make a Constitution be a foregone conclusion in this State, its counsels have the right ring. The Whig says:

"Instead of 'stubborn inaction,' let us have such activity as was never seen before, to secure the predominance in the Convention of prudent and trustworthy men. Let every man vote as he may please on the Convention question—for or against, it matters not—since a Convention will be called any way, but let no man fail to vote for anti-Radical candidates for the Convention. We can elect a commanding majority of such to the Convention if we will, and that, and only that, will make us safe. We can then afford to wait with composure to see whether or not Congress will take the back track."

THE LATE ELECTIONS.—Now that the smoke has cleared away, we are able to see clearly what the Democrats and Conservative men have accomplished in the late elections.

In Ohio, the majority for Hayes (Rad.) is variously estimated at from two hundred to two thousand,—a loss of over 40,000 votes. Charges are made that negroes were permitted to vote, and in case the Radicals should make out a small majority, sufficient to have been made by these votes, the election is to be contested. The Cincinnati Enquirer calls on the Democracy not to yield the governorship, if negro votes can be proven to have been polled. The Democrats have a majority of ten on joint ballot, in the Legislature, a change from the Radical majority of the last body of forty-six.

In Pennsylvania, Shatswood (Dem.) is certainly elected by over 1,000 majority,—a loss to the Radicals of about 20,000 votes.

In Connecticut, full returns from all the towns show a return of 89 Democratic towns and 73 Radical; Democratic majority 9,—the first time in thirteen years that the Democrats have carried a majority of the towns.

In Montana Territory, James M. Cavanaugh (Dem.) has been elected delegate to Congress by a majority of 1,108, as shown by official returns, over Sanders (Radical).

In Indiana, where the elections were only local and municipal, scattering returns from a portion of the State show a Democratic gain of over 6,000 on the Radical majority of last year.

In Iowa, the Democratic gain is about 15,000

Next month, New York and New Jersey, and other States, will thunder.

COUNTY ORGANIZATIONS—STATE CONVENTION.

We observe that there is a very general movement in the State among Conservative men to organize in the Counties, preparatory to the election of the Convention to form the new Constitution, and of delegates to said Convention. This is a most important movement, and we beg our friends to organize in every County, no matter how small their numbers may be. We presume Gen. Canby will order the election to take place between the 15th. of November and 1st. of December, the law requiring 30 days notice.

Sufficient time has not been had to give such notice as would be necessary to secure a Conservative Convention from the several Counties of the State. There is, however, such unanimity of opinion and purpose among all truly Conservative men, to oppose Radical principles and measures in the re organization of the State, that a platform of principles at this period is not necessary. We presume, among all intelligent Conservatives, there is but one opinion as to the justice, wisdom, constitutionality, propriety or necessity of the Reconstruction policy of Congress. If it is incorporated into the organism of North Carolina, it must be by the will of Congress, enforced by military power, and not because it is the will and free choice of the white people of North Carolina. They are agreed, if they are to have any, the least, of the Radical virus injected into the organism of the State, it must be by inoculation, and as little of it as possible, and not in the natural way, I. e. not of their free choice.

Hence, it seems to be generally agreed, that every voter will follow his own judgment and convictions of duty, whether he will vote "Convention" or "no Convention," or whether he will cast a vote at all either way, but it is universally conceded that every voter will be at the polls and cast his vote for none but good, true, honest men as delegates,—true Conservatives, if they can be elected, or honest hearted, moderate men, who are opposed to Radical measures, who claim to be moderate Republicans,—as a means to defeat the Radicals. This sentiment, we say, appears to be universal among the Conservatives of the State. But it is, nevertheless, important, where true, sound, Conservative men can be elected to the Convention, that, in every instance, it shall be done. Let County organizations, therefore, be had in every County to secure these ends.

In several Counties meetings have been held and delegates have been appointed to a State Conservative Convention, but the day suggested was too early to secure a Convention. All these delegates, therefore, will hold over, until a Convention of the Conservatives is called at a future day.—When shall we have such a Convention? Let sufficient time be given, that every County may be represented. How would it do to hold the Convention between the election and the meeting of the Convention to make the Constitution, if one should be called?

WE HAVE HERETOFORE remarked that one of the fruits of the popular re-action at the North is that, not only of deadly opposition to the dogma of negro suffrage, but, of actual hostility to the blacks, as a race. Nejoque was written to pander to that sentiment among the Northern masses. In Philadelphia, we see it stated, they pursued every black who was seen on the streets, the day after the Radical defeat, with jeering yells of "where's your nigger supremacy now, Cuffee?" If such a feeling predominates in communities where the colored men constitute so inconsiderable a portion of the population, who can doubt but that it would ripen into actual bloodshed, if the two races were in the same numerical proportions as they exist in the South?

It is sad to see that so many of the colored men of the South are unaffected by such disclosures, and allow themselves to remain in the deception into which they have been led by selfish and unscrupulous demagogues. They are pursuing, with rare exceptions, the very course which is calculated to intensify the enmity and prejudice which are felt for them at the North, and, at the same time, to alienate from them the friendship and good will of the white people of the South. The few bad men, who are using them for selfish purposes, will be the first to desert them, when they shall have accomplished their purposes or when the hour of their danger shall come. Upon their own heads will fall the consequences of their stupid and besotted folly.

Instead of exercising an ordinary rational judgment in their new relations, they are yielding themselves, like oxen, to the voice and whip of a set of men who have constituted themselves their drivers, and who, they cannot fail to perceive, are the objects of scorn and contempt to the great mass of the white community. They have relapsed from a slavery of the body into a servitude of the will, which is the more abject because it is voluntary. They are demonstrating to the Northern people, day by day, their unfitness for the political equality which has been forced upon the South, but which is denied them at the North. Every candidate, almost, whom they select, is a virtual declaration of war upon the white race. They repel, with something like rage, every suggestion even of moderate Republicanism. They allow the most interested and grovelling adventurers to monopolize their confidence and support, to the exclusion of native Union men and consistent friends of their race. And on they go, blindly, madly, arraying against themselves the white element of the whole country, North and South, which has only to raise its hand to crush them out of existence. Pity for the consequences of their folly is well-nigh exhausted, in view of their stupid credulity. With the mass of them it is foolish credulity, though there are would be leaders among themselves, as well as a few incendiary agitators among the whites, who wilfully and designedly inculcate hostility and hate.

The few sensible colored men, whose eyes are open to the consequences of this state of things, who have refused to join the Leagues, and who deprecate strife, are regarded with open aversion. We hear of some in this City, who are intelligent enough to see whither their race is tending, and honest enough to lift the voice of warning, who have been publicly threatened with hanging.

THE COTTON TAX.

The specific tax of two and a half cents per pound on cotton, at the prices now paid for it, will not only ruin the cotton planter and the laboring men who make it, but must work an entire change in its production or lead to its abandonment. Cotton, at present prices in New York, will compel buyers in the country to offer 15 cts, with the tax on, or 12½ cts, and pay the tax. At this rate, a bale of 400 pounds at 15 cts. will bring $60, but out of this $10 must go to the government to pay the tax, making a direct tax upon the producer, whether white or colored, of 16⅔ dollars on the $100. It is a tax, too, directly against the labor of the country. Was there ever such an exhibition of a want of statesmanship in Congress before? This is not a mere Radical measure. The entire Republican party is responsible for it. If it is an evidence of the vindictiveness of Congress against the South, then it is a vindictiveness which extends to the entire Republican party, and it bears equally against the negro and the white man. Nothing tends so directly to injure the negro in his pecuniary prospects as the tax upon cotton. His labor chiefly produces it, and his wages, or his income, derived from a portion of the crop, depend entirely upon the nett price of cotton. But what people on earth were ever so heavily taxed before? Where in all Europe or Christendom was it ever known before that the government claimed 16⅔ per cent. of the laboring man for its share of his labor?

If prices in New York continue to range from 17 to 20 cts. only, for the present crops, three fourths of the planters of the South must be broken, or so shaken, that they will be unable to go largely into the culture of cotton hereafter. Upon no portion of the community must this bear so hardly as upon the colored. In proportion as cotton is forced to be abandoned by small prices, in the same proportion the necessity for hired negrol abor is lessened. No planter thinks he can make cotton at less than 13 to 15 cts., and, at the same time, pay the negro laborer what his necessities actually require. The cultivation of grain, or other market products, except tobacco, makes the matter worse. Three-fourths of the lands of the State, in their native condition, require time, fertilizers and skilled labor to make them pay well for hired labor. If the culture of cotton fails to pay, as it certainly will, if cotton still declines, a good portion of the present hired labor of the State must seek employment in other pursuits or go where it can be found. Even if the government tax be repealed, which ought to be done as soon as Congress meets, the results of the present year's crop in the Southern States can barely pay for its "production at present cost."

But what may our planters hope for? We must hope that prices have reached their minimum. The crop cannot be as large as has been anticipated. Where the cotton worm has been, the article produced will be very superior in quality. Hence we look for a very gradual rise in the price of cotton from these two causes, though we cannot hope for such prices as will greatly stimulate its culture the next year. Owners of lands, and planters generally, must turn their attention more to the production of breadstuffs, pork, beef, &c. These are always reliable for a support, if nothing more. The farming interests of the North are never so seriously affected by the fluctuations in prices. Wheat, corn and other articles of consumption can scarcely be produced in such excess as to break down prices below a living rate. The Southern people must no longer be dependent upon the North for bread or meat. Our policy, heretofore, has been perfectly suicidal. Cotton is so liable to fail either in product or price, no man acts wisely who depends entirely upon it. Let the experience of the past admonish our people.

"OLD THAD" has written a letter since the election of last week. The poor blind old man says that he shall demand the impeachment of the President immediately upon the reassembling of Congress, and the enactment of a law suspending his official functions pending the trial. He also advocates the enfranchisement of the blacks in all the States by act of Congress. Won't he please go a little further, and attempt to have Congress declare that California, Ohio and Pennsylvania are without "Republican forms of government?"

THE WILMINGTON Post says that the "Northern Copperhead presses are harping upon Mrs. Lincoln's wardrobe," and adds that "there are people in this country yet, who would dance with delight to see the pillars of the Republic pulled down." We fail to discover the logical connection between "Mrs. Lincoln's wardrobe" and the "pillars of the Republic." Let us be enlightened.

WE HAVE a Mark Tapley in North Carolina, and he lives in Newbern. The Republican, of that City, parades a sickly-looking eagle in its columns, and exhorts the bird to "scream," because the Radicals only lost some fifteen thousand votes in Iowa! If this isn't being "jolly under adverse circumstances," we should like to know what is.

ALMOST every Radical paper in the country, North and South, in view of the late elections, has something to say about "local issues." Local issues are getting to be to Radicalism what strychnine is to dogs.

THE RADICAL meeting at the Court House, last evening, as we predicted, was a dark and gloomy affair. There were a few Federal officers present, but not more than ten white participants. The X. P. G. delivered a prosy harangue, which put half of his colored audience to sleep. The only white men inside the bar were the X. P. G. aforesaid, and Joseph William.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS EDITORS:—I believe you do not exchange with the Standard; at least you do not often notice its articles. As a matter of taste and propriety, you are certainly right. I rarely see it myself, but always find something suggestive when accident puts a No. in my hands. In its last issue (Oct. 15th.) there are several remarkable things. Its advertisements, covering nearly half the immaculate sheet, are all either from the North or bankruptcy publications of the Federal Court. This sort of patronage, of course, can have no influence whatever on the tone of the paper. It merely happens to have received this patronage by sheer good luck. It never so right it and would scorn to be influenced by "dirty dollars."—It will march right on, and turn neither to the right hand nor to the left, from motives of pelf. It cannot be even suspected of such meanness. It is a free press—that Standard. It has not been "bought and paid for," as that "glorious old patriot" Brownlow once said it was. There is no thought in all its columns about "meat and bread," as was falsely affirmed by that same "glorious old patriot." I trample the insinuation under my feet indignantly—scornfully. The name of that paper is Simon Pure. It was so baptized before it was eight days old; and an unspotted life of twenty-four years has amply confirmed the baptismal name. It never dreams of "meat and bread" save in the way of honesty, and was never "bought and paid for," save by Truth, who will always recompense her followers. It is a most truthful sheet—is that Standard—and may it "forever float," as the poet saith.

This number affirms that Windy Billy did not steal a horse. It was only a mule. And some of the Grand Jury who found a true bill doubted whether he had done even that. He had only—innocently—received stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen.—As Windy Billy is an honored State Committee-man of the 5th Radical District, the Standard "felt sure, from the first, that the charge was unfounded." Certainly it did; it was in duty bound to feel sure of it.—And so let his license to practice law be restored at once to this injured patriot. It was weakness in him to ask the Court to strike his name from the list of Attornies. He is white-washed now. Let him go back again to professional honor—and be happy. The horrible rebels "hate him because he has the confidence of the government and the confidence of the colored people whom he protects in their rights." Of course they hate him for that, and for nothing else. The negroes all love him; and they ought to.—When he exhorted them "to stand back and not make fools of themselves," by getting in the way of the white folks in the scramble after office, it was only a gentle rebuke, and meant for their good. Windy will come out all right yet, and be an honored man. The word male will never be spoken in his presence, except circumlocutionally, thus: "a quadruped of a mongrel breed." And the animal itself will be charmed into silence by his saintly purity, and never dare to lift up its hybrid voice and bray in his presence.

There is an article on "Union and Harmony," asserting that the Republican party is an unit. "It will not be divided." Certainly it will not. Young men are sometimes wonderfully brave; neophytes and youngsters on probation, especially. Since the Standard, whose term of trial had not yet expired, rose in his wrath and read out Mr. Goodloe and other life-time churchmen, the old ship of Zion moves on without a flap in her sails; and we shall all now be landed at New Jerusalem, or Jericho, while these Jonahs will be swallowing whales and salt water, leagues behind. Yes, "nominate your candidates, friends! (of what color I) in the usual fair conventions or meetings, and for the nominees." To be sure they will.—Are they not ordered—and sworn to it, too, by all the solemnities of a red string? And are they not free—to vote as they are ordered and sworn?

There is a long account of the "Craven County Republican Convention." In their proceedings, you will in vain seek for any of the old honored names of the Athenian city. They were men, in those good old times, in Newbern. Where are they now? Not even echo can tell. But for them we have an unknown assortment of Yankee adventurers who come here and dub themselves "Hon."; unsophisticated negroes, who submit to be fooled by them, and mean sneaking whites, born on the soil, who have abjured their own color—and these piously propose to regenerate this noble old State, and restore her to glories which in her palmiest days she never knew! "The Northern white element", whine through their long purple noses about developing "our" resources, and elevating our people so that they need no longer be ashamed to aspire to an equal association with them! (Heaven save the mark!)

In this No. there is a laudatory notice of the "recent Inaugural Address" of that glorious old patriot Brownlow.

There is an article on "Hard Swearing." This is rather a ticklish subject with the "Southern white element"—and is treated very gingerly.

Another calling on the "Republicans and especially the colored people to trade with those who advertise in Republican papers."—This is unctuously urged, and italicised as above.

There are also many other things, worthy of note and comment, in this paper, for which there would not be room in your columns. One of them, however, should by no means be passed over. It is the very pleasing description of what it calls "The Funeral at Tucker's Hall." It is entitled to a more critical notice than I choose to give it. The whole article details what the Editor "saw" with his own blessed eyes of the "funeral exercise," is very harmless, remarkably witty, and as truthful as—his editorial utterances usually are. It begins with a cut, facetiously called the "Game Cock of Liberty." As it is intended to represent the man and brother in his glory, it might have been improved by a little amplification, as the "Game Cock of Liberty Equality and Fraternity." The Editor took his seat very properly in the gallery, with the cullered population. That was eminently right and becoming, but there might be a slight suspicion of presumption in seating himself at their "right hand." Would it not have been more modest if he had placed himself, in a winning way, at their left? Or, better still, at their honored feet? It might have looked more coaxing-like. But he was a happy man, any how. It was to be a grand "Funeral." There would soon be dead bodies in abundance—an hundred and more—to be gloated over, and his mouth watered. The hyena laughs and licks his chops when funerals are going on. It is the nature of the beast, and he cannot help it. He loveth and luxuriateth in that sort of thing; the taste was born with him, and he cannot help it. Ought the hyena to be blamed for his instincts?

The "Little Blower" was there and took a part in the proceedings, and has been duly honored by several complimentary Standard notices. "This person," though a "hoary headed traitor," now, was younger once, and visited circuses, and had a special relish for animated nature and the menagerie. He could not go to Robinson's, the other day, being a little impecunious, and having no free ticket as the Standard had. But he studied the great pictures on the wall—especially the Hyena. There was his old savage look, his old sinister laugh, and his old love for carrion gleaming out of his old shi ny eyes. Though "this person" could not see Robinson's living specimen for the reason aforesaid, the picture on the high wall was just as good; and so was the picture in the gallery. And while gazing on that admiringly, he remembered another picture, drawn by a master hand, and a "glorious old patriot," to boot, many years ago—and here, gentlemen, it is, italics and all, as printed in the Whig Clarion, April 24, 1844.

"THE LITTLE BLOWER."

For the Clarion

A CARD.

MR. EDITOR:—That prince of hypocrites, the veritable editor of the Raleigh Standard, has pounced upon me in his paper of the 17th. inst., and I desire, briefly, through the columns of your excellent little paper, to reply. I have taken him off at length in my own paper; though that paper circulates much more extensively than the putrified sheet through the columns of which Billy Holden lies weekly, yet it does not circulate in the region of the Standard. This is my apology for wishing it to be heard through the medium of the Clarion. * * *

But who is this Billy Holden, that he should apply the epithets of "rowdy," "blackguard," &c, to honest and decent men? He is a third-rate County Court lawyer, who, some short time ago, wrote and spoke the high praises of Mr. Clay, Gov. Morehead, and the Whig party generally, with a view to induce the Whigs to give him employment, that he might avoid starvation. He is that same little wavering, breathing, putrified monument of his own shame and disgrace, who was repulsed by the Proprietor of the Star Office, upon an application to become a partner in the concern? He is that vain glorious little creature, who, to gain notoriety, and at the same time make his bread and meat, wrote to the Hon. William A. Graham, while a Senator in Congress, asking him to aid him in buying out the Star Office, with a view to his starting a more efficient Whig press in Raleigh, and one that would handle the Locos as they deserved to be handled! And last, though not least, he is the same depraved little political mendicant, who, making known his price to the Locofocos of Raleigh, has been bought and paid for, soul and body—receipts, in due form, having passed between the "high contracting parties!"—In this contemptible little renegade, is all want of principle brought to a focus. And if any responsible Whig or Democrat has ever known him to look an honest man in the face, since his connexion with the Locofoco party, and can make it appear, why, I will make a public acknowledgement to the man. He has the worst countenance of any man I saw in Raleigh. And if his countenance be regarded as a true index to his heart, I would as soon suspect him of taking things without leave, as any man I have met with since I left Tennessee.

WILLIAM G. BROWNLOW,
Editor of the Jonesboro' Whig.

Raleigh, April 18, 1844.

MR. J. Q. ADAMS' LETTER.—Mr. John Q. Adams, who accepted the Democratic and Conservative nomination for Governor of Massachusetts, is the grandson of Jno. Quincy Adams, and son of Charles Francis Adams, Minister to the Court of St. James. Like his great ancestor, he cannot concur in the extreme political intolerance and disloyalty to the Constitution of the ruling party in Massachusetts. The elder John Quincy Adams repudiated the treachery of the Bluelight Federalists of 1812, and raised the standard against them. His grandson is now arrayed against the same phase of popular disloyalty to the Constitution and the national welfare—into which the people of Massachusetts have been beguiled by the [illegible] State. It would be a great national blessing if he could meet the same success in his independent and bold conduct that crowned the efforts of his distinguished ancestor.

His letter accepting the nomination is concise and frank. Incidentally he makes the following point on States' Rights, having a direct aim upon the New England States.

"I am glad to see the doctrine of State Rights, as understood and promulgated by the founders of our Commonwealth and by the fathers of our National Union, rescued from unmerited obloquy and cherished by you, as it must be by all, if the New England States are to retain their senatorial preponderance in Congress."

Upon the financial question he is very decided. We extract the following sentence from what he says on the subject:

"The intolerable burden of an exploded and unscientific plan of internal taxation, combined with a tariff, which is nothing but legalized robbery, must have been saddled upon the people by gross ignorance or fraud, and if not speedily removed it will furnish the exhausted tax payer with a semblance of reason for repudiation."

A DOMESTIC SECESSION.—Simultaneously with the announcement that Senator Sumner is traveling through the West, delivering a political "lecture," composed, it is said, chiefly of plagiarized literary gems, comes also the rumor that Mrs. Sumner, so recently married, disgusted and disappointed in finding "the Godlike" wanting even in the attributes of manhood, and indignant at the domestic tyranny to which she was subjected, has permanently seceded, and is about to make her residence in Europe, under her own name.—Nat. Intel.

In view of the inefficiency of the police, the statement that Butler intends going to New York to live fills one with the gloomiest forebodings.

CHANGE OF SCHEDULE.—We learn that from and after to day, the schedule will be changed on the North Carolina Railroad to conform to that adopted by the Raleigh and Gaston Road. We have not seen the figures, but we suppose that the train from the East will arrive about 3½ o'clock, and leave for the West a few minutes thereafter. We shall of course, in consequence of this arrangement, resume the afternoon edition of the Sentinel, for the benefit of our Western subscribers. This edition will contain the latest telegrams up to 2 o'clock, P. M.

THE UNIVERSITY.—We learn that an erroneous impression prevails, in some quarters, that the Trustees of the University have concluded to suspend the operations of the Institution.

This is an entire mistake. It is the intention of the Trustees to re organize the Institution, and adapt it to the needs of the age The resignations of the Faculty have been accepted, to take effect on the 10th. of December next, at which time elections will be had to fill all vacancies. Perhaps some of the present Professors will be re-elected. New blood, new energy, will be introduced. But the exercises of the Institution will not be suspended a moment. On the contrary, the University will be more efficient than ever. Its prospects are very hopeful.

WHEAT.—The planters in this State are putting in the wheat crop. We hope a larger amount will be seeded than ever before. Let it be put in well, and, if possible, use fertilizers for its production. A large and early wheat crop will go largely to prevent the cry for bread the approaching summer and fall. Present appearances indicate scarcity of bread next year, in those Counties where they have gone so largely into cotton. Sow wheat largely.

YELLOW FEVER IN TEXAS.—We observe that the epidemic is spreading to all the towns of the middle and lower Counties. It is announced that Theodore Heflin, son of Rev. Dr. Heflin, of Huntsville, Texas, late of this State, died at Huntsville, of yellow fever, on the 23d ult. Surely our North Carolina boys have been severely scourged.

REGULATIONS WHICH WILL GOVERN THE ELECTION.—The following regulations will govern the election to be held in Virginia, on the 22d. of October: There will be at each poll a box for white voters and another box in which colored voters will deposit their ballots. Each of these boxes will be divided into two apartments, into one of which voters will deposit their ballot for or against a Convention, and in the other a ballot with the names of persons as delegates to the Convention.

These are excellent arrangements, and we hope that Gen. Canby will prescribe the same in this State. In this City, for instance, where the box-holders have heretofore found it close work to poll the six or eight hundred votes usually cast here, they will be utterly unable to take the present heavy vote, unless there should be two boxes,—one for the blacks and the other for the whites. In no other way can a full poll be had.

DR. GARDNER, THE IMPOSTER.—We have been looking out, ever since this imposter left the City, after deceiving the press and robbing so many persons of their money, upon false pretences, to see where he would next light. We have just discovered that he has taken rooms at the Louisville Hotel, Louisville, Ky. He deceived the press of several of our towns and took fees from a number of persons, as high as $50 or $100, to cure deafness and blindness, and in no instance, that we know of, did he afford any real relief. He is an arrant cheat, and ought to be kicked out of any decent town, village or neighborhood, he may visit. Let the Louisville press pass him round!

Baltimore Letter.

BALTIMORE, MD., Oct. 14th, 1867.

Messrs. Editors:—I am sure the numerous readers of your valuable journal will be pleased to hear of the flattering success which the Washington University has met with in its re-organization. Its Faculty being composed of Southern men and Baltimore being such a hospitable City, it is natural to expect that it should be largely patronized by Southern students; and I am proud to say our old State is well represented, and students are continually coming in from all parts of the South. I am sure this University affords the most ample facilities to the student of Medicine.

Although it presents no crowded amphitheatres and superfluous museums, yet it possesses everything that is necessary to demonstrate the various complications of the science; and, besides this, Southern gentlemen are trying to build up what war and adversity swallowed up amid thier terrible convulsions. That talented son of our State, Dr. Ed. Warren, is one of the Faculty, and is using his most active efforts to advance the science and build up the Institution. Indeed all the Faculty are Southern men and noted for their thorough knowledge, as teachers and practitioners of Medicine. I can assure the student of one thing: When he comes amid the kind and generous people of Baltimore, everything that can be done for his comfort, and to make him forget he is among strangers, will be done. It was here many a gallant hero was soothed, when the stern fate of war tore him from loved ones. It was here that the suffering of Southern women and children fell not in vain upon charitable ears, but, with unparalleled sympathy, they rallied to their support and saved numbers from starvation.

With all these things in view, I hope our people will come to the support of this University and build up Southern enterprise, and encourage Southern worth.

There has been great rejoicing here, for the past few days, over the great reaction at the North. I think the future looks brighter and we may still hope for a restored Constitution and a free people. But a medical student should have other more important business than politics.

I am, truly,

G. E. M., of Nash.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING IN MECKLENBURG.

A large number of the Conservatives of Mecklenburg assembled in Charlotte, on Friday, to give expression to their views and feelings upon the issues of the day, and the appointment of delegates to the Convention of the State, &c.

Upon motion of Capt. R. P. Waring, Jno. Walker, Esq., was called to the chair and F. S. Dewolfe, Esq., requested to act as Secretary.

Capt. Waring explained the object of the meeting (as set forth above,) and moved that a Committee of five be appointed to prepare business for the action of the meeting.

The Chair, in response, appointed Capt. Waring, Col. H. C. Jones, Jr., Hon. J. H. Wilson, Jno. E. Brown, Esq., and Col. E. A. Osborne.

While the Committee was out, Judge Osborne was called for and entertained the meeting in his usual happy and felicitous style, in which he took strong grounds against universal suffrage, but was willing to accord qualified suffrage.

After the Judge had concluded, Col. H. C. Jones, Jr., Chairman of the Committee on resolutions, made a report and prefaced them with a few well-timed remarks.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously, and are as follows:

WHEREAS, In the opinion of the Conservative citizens of Mecklenburg County, in Convention assembled, it has become necessary to give expression to their views upon the great questions of policy which now engage the attention of the people of this State, in order that all good men may understand the principles for which they labor, and the motives by which they are actuated, now be it

Resolved, That neither the Congress of the United States, nor its Courts, can legally confiscate, or appropriate, without compensation, the property of the citizen; and that we regard those who advocate such lawless violence, as the enemies of peace, order and good government in the land.

Resolved, That the right of suffrage in this State belongs by law, and by every principle of natural justice, to every citizen that owes allegiance to her government; and that the depriving of any citizen of this right, by violence, or by the domination of majorities, is an act oppressive in its character, revolutionary in its tendency, and destructive of all hope of a speedy return to perfect peace, order and good feeling in the land.

Resolved, That while we protest against the Congressional action known as the reconstruction acts, as an usurpation of power and a gross infraction of our Constitutional rights, as they have been defined by our ablest jurists, and recognized by Congress itself, yet, believing it to be the part of wisdom to submit to power we are unable to resist, and to extricate the State from the distressing burdens of military rule, we favor the earliest practical restoration of civil government in this State; and with a view to this we respectfully suggest that the Conservative citizens of this State meet in Convention, at Raleigh, at the earliest possible day, to determine upon the best method of accomplishing this purpose.

Resolved, That we cordially invite all patriotic citizens, without distinction of parties, or color, to join us in our efforts to put down the spirit of Radical misrule that weighed so heavily upon us in the past, and which threatens us with incalculable injuries in the future; and to fill our State offices with men who are able to rise above the lust of power to the higher and holier considerations of liberty, justice and equality in the State.

After the adoption of the resolutions, it was moved and carried, that fifty delegates, with the addition of the Chairman and Secretary, be appointed to attend a proposed meeting of the Conservative citizens of the State, at Raleigh.

[The Chair was allowed time to make the appointments, which will be duly announced, when made.]

SWAYNE TO BE REMOVED.—There is good reason to believe that Gen. Swayne, at the head of the Freedmen's Bureau in Alabama, will be at once removed. He is running the Radical party in Alabama, through the Freedmen's Bureau, in his own interest for the United States Senate, and the friendship of Governor Parsons, of Alabama, for him, will not effect his salvation.—Wash. Cor. N. Y. World, Oct. 11th.

A democratic candidate for the State Senate in Ohio has signified his intention to contest the election, on the ground that he was defeated by a majority of one hundred colored voters.

REJOICING EVERYWHERE.—In every part of the country, North, South, East and West, the people are burning bonfires, firing cannon and illuminating their houses in token of their joy at the result of the recent elections.—Louisville Courier.

Chase has gone fishing. Hope some one will pull the scales from a Salmon's eyes before he gets back.—Louisville Democrat.

HOME CERTIFICATES

From Physicians.

We hereby certify that the Rosadalis is prepared by a Physician, who is an experienced Pharmaceutist and Chemist, and that his remedy is an efficient and reliable one in SCROFULA, Syphilis, &c., it having performed some remarkable cures in this vicinity.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir—Please send me immediately per Express to Tarboro, two dozen more bottles of your Rosadalis. I have carefully examed its Formula, and have used it in my practice in a number of cases. I am well pleased with it. I think it, beyond doubt, the best Alterative I ever used. I have tried it in several cases of Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, &c., with much satisfaction to myself and patients. I have also used it in Secondary and Teritary Syphilis, [one a terrible case of eight years' standing,] in which it acted with surprising and satisfactory effect—making a quick and thorough cure. I have, therefore, no hesitation in recommending it to Physicians and others, as the most reliable Alterative now known.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

A Wonderful Cure of Scrofulous White Swelling.

HOME CERTIFICATE.

I hereby certify, that last September I was attacked with White Swelling of the left knee—and also with an enlargement of the glands of the neck—[one tumor reached a large size.] The swelling of the knee was enormous, and was attended with the most excruciating pains. I was so reduced that I was confined to my room over three months. My leg was so completely drawn up, that I could not bend it at all. I tried various remedies, and they failed to give me any relief. I was in this condition when I commenced taking Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis. The swelling in the knee and neck began to subside before I took all of the first bottle. By the time I took the second bottle, the swelling of the neck entirely disappeared and that of the knee nearly so. After taking three bottles I found myself completely well—able to walk as well as ever, &c.

Rosadalis cures Carbuncles, Boils, Pimples, &c.

Certificate from an old and much respected citizen of Greene County, now a resident of Wilson, N. C.

I hereby certify that, during the summer and fall of 1866, that I was severely afflicted with Carbuncles—having had as many as fourteen large Carbuncles, and twelve ordinary Boils. I suffered so much from them that I could not get out of the house half the time for several months. Being induced to try Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis, I was entirely cured by the use of one bottle of that truly valuable medicine

Consumption, in its Early Stages, can be Cured.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 4th, 1867.

Dear Dr. Lawrence—My daughter having been cured of a deeply seated disease of the lungs by your "Rosadalis," I feel it my duty to make the fact known to you for the benefit of others. She suffered nearly two years with a hard cough, which troubled her day and night; at last the emaciated form, glossy eye, night sweats, together with the cough, told too plainly that it was Consumption, [a blood question, eating at her vitals. Our Physician's remedies brought no relief. She was advised to try your Rosadalis, as a tonic—which she did—imagine my surprise and gratification, when I found her appetite returning. Slowly she regained her strength, her cough and night sweats gradually ceased, and she is now, after taking five bottles of your medicine, apparently as well as ever.

Yours respectfully,

A. D. SMITH.

Rosadalis cures all Skin Diseases,

Salt Rheum Cured! Remarkable Cure!!

DR. LAWRENCE, Wilson, N. C.:

My Dear Sir—For the last six years (until recently) I suffered with an inveterate eruption of the skin—called by physicians "Salt Rheum," with which I suffered terribly; the pain and itching was almost intolerable. I tried several of the best physicians in Europe and this country—have visited several celebrated Springs—spent thousand of dollars—and failed to get any better. In December 1866, being in Charleston S. C., I was told by a gentleman at the hotel, that he had been cured of a bad letter by a medicine called "Rosadalis." I resolved to try it, without any hope though of its doing me any good. I procured a bottle of Messrs. King & Cassidey, and commenced taking it. Finding, to my surprise, that I was improving, I bought four other bottles; but before commencing on the last two, I found I was completely well—the disease having entirely disappeared.

Enclosed find "One Hundred Dollars," which please accept as a token of my gratitude. Why do you not make your invaluable Rosadalis widely known?

Your sincere friend,

W. T. SELTZER.

Major John W. Dunham, one of the editors of the Wilson "North Carolinian," says in the issue of the 29th April, 1867: "I believe from personal experience that the Rosadalis is the finest tonic ever prepared."

From 75 cts. to $4.00 Don't stop until you come to CREECH'S to buy your Hats. In fact, I think I can meet the expectations of all my customers and the public generally, both as to price and quality of ALL Goods.

Now a few words to my customers and friends: You see a great many different styles of advertisements. Some say they are in "luck again;" some say they have "hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost;" some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to say, whether I am in luck, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the nail entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have sold out my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. My goods are now in Store, and opened for inspection.

COME AND LOOK AT THEM.

I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, and I think I have made my word good.

I told the people to come to Creech's to buy their goods, that I would serve them right. Hundreds have come, and they are still coming from this and adjoining Counties. And I here take the privilege to say, I think they have shown their good judgment.

Don't forget to come to

DAILY SENTINEL.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1867.

THE LITTLE STEP SON.

BY MRS. AMELIA B. WELBY.

I have a little step-son, the loveliest thing alive,
A noble, sturdy boy is he, and yet he's only five;
His smooth cheek has a bloomy glow, his eyes are black as jet,
And his lips are like two rose-buds, all tremulous and wet.

His days pass off in sunshine, in laughter and in song,
As careless as a summer rill that sings itself along;
For like a pretty fairy tale that's all too quickly told,
Is the young life of a little one, that's only five years old.

He's dreaming on his happy couch before the day grows dark,
He's up with morning's rosy ray, a-singing with the lark;
Where'er the flowers are freshest, where'er the grass is green,
With light locks waving on the wind, his fairy form is seen.

Amid the whistling March winds, amid the April showers,
He warbles with the singing birds, and blossoms with the flowers:
He cares not for the summer heat, he cares not for the cold,
My sturdy little step-son that's only five years old.

How touching 'tis to see him clasp his dimpled hands in prayer,
And raise his little rosy face in reverential air!
How simple in his eloquence! how soft his accents fall!
When pleading with the King of kings to love and bless us all;

And when from prayer he bounds away in innocence and joy,
The blessing of a smiling God goes with the sinless boy.
A little lambkin of the flock, within the Saviour's fold
Is he my lovely step son, that's only five years old.

I have not told you of our home, that in the summer hours,
Stands in its simple modesty, half-hid among the flowers,
I have not said a single word about our mines of wealth—
Our treasures are this little boy, contentment, peace and health;

For even a lordly hall to us would be a voiceless place,
Without the gush of his glad voice, the gleams of his bright face:
And many a courtly pair, I ween, would give their gems and gold,
For a noble, happy boy like ours, some four or five years old.

A SOLDIER'S MISFORTUNE.

An Arkansas gentleman furnishes the Metropolitan Record, with the following account of a sad disaster, that befel him while he was playing commandant of a military post during the late war:

In 1865 I was ordered to the town of A——, in Mississippi, as Post Commandant. I had often heard of the place as being a gay, dressy town, with a more than usual number of young ladies. Now, as I had been on field duty for seven or eight months, without having even bowed to a member of the "female persuasion," I very naturally felt considerable anxiety as to the state of my wardrobe, which, to tell the truth, was in a deplorably dilapidated condition. Upon examination I found that my best coat was a jacket (is that a "bull?") and my best pants had seen service until they were dangerously threadbare in certain places. However, they were the best I had, and after carefully brushing, I rolled them up for dress occasions. I reached my post on Saturday evening, and having no acquaintances, I concluded on Sunday morning to attend divine service. It did not take me long to dress, and my jacket and trowsers were soon on duty, and tying a sash, slightly the worse for wear, about my waist as a finish, I considered myself, for the times, presentable. I soon reached the church, and found it filled, with the exception of one pew, which, being under a window, I imagined had been avoided on account of the sun, which shone full upon it. With an old soldier's indifference to trifles, I boldly entered the vacant pew and sat me down. As I did so I thought I detected a merry twinkle in the eyes and a nervous twitching of the laughing muscles of some rosy-cheeked misses who occupied the seat in rear of me. After being seated a few moments, the opening hymn was read, and as the congregation arose I made an effort to get upon my feet, but was horrified to find myself glued to the bench!—The young ladies in rear smiled audibly, which I cannot say added to my comfort. Another effort, followed by a peculiar noise, as of cloth being torn, and a smothered "te-he! te-he!" from the young ladies. Thought I, "here's a fix for a first appearance." All this time I had kept "eyes front," but now taking a sly glance out of the corner of my right, I saw the situation at once. The confounded bench was made of "fat" pine, with only one coat of paint. The heat of the sun had drawn the crude turpentine to the surface, making a soft coating of at least a fourth of an inch in thickness.

There I sat, "the observed of all observers," with a face like a red cabbage—regularly "limed!" The sermon seemed interminable. I dared not look at any one, and upon the slightest movement the infernal trousers would tear with a noise that was exceedingly embarrassing. I'm afraid my mind was too intent on planning an escape when the service should close, to enjoy the parson's eloquence, and regret to say that I have never been able to remember his text. I felt that every man, woman and child in the house knew my wretched predicament. "If I only had on a long-tailed coat instead of this deuced jacket," thought I. Finally, with a feeling of desperation, I determined to make a break for it, and while the last song was being sung I took advantage of the higher notes to tear myself loose, which I accomplished just as the song was finished. Intensely relieved to find myself free, I arose for the benediction, holding with careful carelessness my slouched hat behind me to conceal damages. But I was hardly erect upon my feet before I perceived the eyes of my fair fellow-worshippers directed to the place I had just vacated and every face convulsed with repressed laughter. I whirled and gave one glance, and Oh! mirabile dictu, there, stuck tight to the bench, was the whole seat of my unfortunate breeches—at least enough "to bottom a chair!"

How I got out or reached my room I leave you to guess, for I have no distinct recollection of "the order of my going." I was informed afterwards, by those who met me on the street, that I seemed to be in a hurry, and that, although the sun was hot enough to melt the bricks on the pavement, I carried my hat in my hand, and my hand behind me. Result was that I immediately conceived a great fondness for long-tail coats.

GRAND TRUNK RAILROAD,

From Charlotte and all Points on the N. Carolina and its Connecting Railroads, to the Seaboard at Newbern and Morehead City.

THE STATE OWNS THREE-FOURTHS OF the North Carolina Railroad and three-fourths of the ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD. This is the

STATE LINE,

To its OWN SEAPORT and on its OWN BOATS. All other lines are in opposition.

A six per cent dividend on this line will save the people from taxation $295,000 per annum.

Under a resolution of the Stockholders of the N. C. Railroad, all Freights are to go via Goldsboro', unless otherwise specially directed by shippers.

When at Goldsboro', you are only sixty miles from the shipping point, instead of one hundred and sixty via Weldon, and eighty via Wilmington. Our Steamers are equal to any other line, both for Freight and Travel. Time as short as by any other, and as cheap.

THIS is the Line

To ENCOURAGE. You get dispatch, safety, but one handling, and less Railroad transportation than by any other line.

Three-fourths of the PROFITS made on this line go directly into the STATE TREASURY, and if encouraged, you will soon be relieved from heavy taxation at least two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Railroads composing the N. C. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY LINE have recently agreed to unite in a

A Cheap Cotton Press.

FARMERS, BEFORE YOU BUY A PRESS OR build a Screw, enquire into the merits of the

GODWIN COTTON PRESS.

Hear what the following reliable gentlemen say:

I have seen Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press work at Mr. P. E. Smith's plantation, and it does all that he says it does in his advertisement and more. I think it superior to any other mode of packing Cotton, and saves both time and labor.
W. R. SMITH.

I have used the above mentioned Press, and consider it the best I ever saw for packing Cotton.
THOS. J. VAUGHAN.

I have packed about 100 bales of Cotton with Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press, and take pleasure in recommending it to the farmers as a great labor-saving machine. It does not cost more than half as much as a Screw, and is worth twice as much.
It is so convenient, and takes fewer hands to do as much work as a Screw, I would pay the price of a Press rather than allow a man to put up a screw on my place for nothing.
D. EDMONDSON.

I have used the above mentioned Cotton Press, and it does better than a Screw. Takes less hands, does not waste Cotton, and is much cheaper.
J. H. CURRY.
Supt W. H. Smith's Plantation.

I have packed about 70 bales with Godwin's Cotton Press, and am certain it is the best, cheapest, most compact and durable Press in existence, costing only half, at first, and lasting twice as long as a screw.
PETER E. SMITH,

I have never seen the Cotton Press of Mr. Jno. H. Godwin at work, but have no doubt, from the certificates of the gentlemen above, that it performs all they say of it. I know them to be gentlemen of character and veracity, and that their statements are entitled to credit.
RICHARD H. SMITH.

The last name is one of our most honorable and respectable citizens, well known as a former member of the Legislature. I offer this PRESS, as combining more advantages for packing than any now in use; it is adapted to large or small farms, and is so simple and cheap, that any good mechanic can build it. It is well adapted to

WATER-POWER.

It is 10 or 11 feet wide, 3 feet and 3 inches thick; top of frame above ground, 16 feet; highest point of Lever, 18 or 19 feet. The platform on which the bale is turned out, is 10 feet above ground.
Length of box, 10 feet in the clear.
Length of bale 5 feet, by 2 feet 4 inches. Weight 500 or 600 lbs. It is put up flat against the Lint Room, thereby preventing the scattering of the Cotton and need of baskets.
The Press is chiefly built of scantlings.
The Inventor has spared no pains in his experiments to make it practicable, convenient and cheap. I charge

$25 for a Single Right.

The total cost, including cover and everything, is about $130. Much of that, farmers are not in the habit of including as cost.
I think I can sell County rights at about $10 by the hundred.

THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine

IS OFFERED TO THE

Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing

LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and those few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which, being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench.

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause.

You are saved from the immense water damage caused by large Engines.

You can effect insurance on your property

At Lower Rates,

if protected by the Extinguisher.

The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of gentlemen in Europe and America will testify.

I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Schools in N. C.

No House, Store, Factory, or Corporation is safe without them.

The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restorations.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel states, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the state or states included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any state, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such state by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as near as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such registrars or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as soon provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office." Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers, and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
